Sermon Challenges

MONDAY
READ Haggai 2:15
God tells His people to stop and look honestly at their lives. Not to shame them, but to wake them up. They had drifted, delayed, and lived out of alignment for too long. But God gives them a new starting point: “from this day on.” That is grace. Your past may explain where you’ve been, but it does not have to determine where you go next. Faithfulness begins with today. Ask God, “What needs to change from this day on?” Write down one clear answer and take a step toward it.

TUESDAY
READ Haggai 2:16-17
The people worked hard, but life still felt empty. They were busy but not aligned with God. Their problem wasn’t effort. It was direction. Spiritual drift rarely happens all at once. It happens through small compromises, delayed obedience, and neglected priorities. Nobody accidentally becomes spiritually mature. Faithfulness requires intentional choices. Identify one area where you have been drifting. Choose one intentional habit today that moves you back toward God.

WEDNESDAY
READ Haggai 2:17
The people kept working, planting, building, and striving, but something was missing. God was showing them that no amount of success can satisfy a life that is out of alignment with Him. We were created to live with God at the center. When anything else takes His place, even good things eventually feel empty. Look at where you’ve been trying hardest lately. Ask whether you are seeking God’s presence or just chasing results.

TRUTH TO CARRY WITH YOU
GOD’S FAITHFULNESS IS GREATER THAN YOUR FAILURES.
YOU CANNOT CHANGE YESTERDAY,
BUT BY GOD’S GRACE,
YOU CAN CHOOSE WHAT HAPPENS FROM THIS DAY ON.

THURSDAY
READ Haggai 2:18-19
When God promised blessing, nothing had changed yet. The fields still looked the same. The trees had not produced fruit. The harvest had not arrived. But God still said, “From this day on I will bless you.” Faith trusts God in the gap between the promise and the fulfillment. Anyone can trust after the answer comes. Faithfulness keeps building before the fruit appears. Name one promise of God you need to trust before you see results. Pray over it today.

FRIDAY
READ Philippians 1:6
God was doing more through Zerubbabel and the people than they could see. They thought they were rebuilding a temple. God was preserving a promise that would ultimately lead to Jesus. The same is true in your life. You may see today’s struggle, but God sees tomorrow’s testimony. You may see one act of obedience, but God sees what it can become. Encourage yourself with this truth today: “God is still working in me.” Repeat it when discouragement rises.

SATURDAY
READ 2 Corinthians 5:17
Jesus is God’s greatest “from this day on.” Through His death and resurrection, forgiveness is possible. Restoration is possible. A new beginning is possible. Your past does not have to have the final word. Regret keeps looking backward, but faith moves forward. In Christ, the old is gone and the new has come. Pray this today: “Lord, I cannot change yesterday, but from this day on, I choose to follow You.”
